IGA plans new store

By Frank Ryan

Negotiations are underway that could see a new IGA supermarket in Drayton Valley.

Ottewill Developments of Edmonton, owners of Dodson Plaza, have confirmed reports they have taken out a building permit with the town.

Construction on a 24,000 square-foot, independent building, south of Fields, could start as early as next month.

Negotiations are currently under way between the developer and Carrington-O'Brien Foods (IGA).

A spokesman for Carrington-O'Brien says the negotiations are very close to being finalized.

If IGA become tenants of the new building, it will double the floor space from their present store located at the north end of the mall.

It's IGA's intention, if things go ahead, to provide Drayton Valley and area customers with the most modern, up-to-date supermarket in Alberta.

Ottewill Developments told The Western Review that nothing has been finalized in the way of a tenant for their existing store.

New offices will deal in child welfare cases

The reorganization of social service offices will not lead to any reduction of services in Drayton Valley.

Denis Bell, director of the Edmonton region of Alberta Social Services, says the reorganization will involve a move away from the current multi role set up of Edmonton's seven district offices.

Al Sailing, acting Social Services manager in Edmonton, told The Western Review his department is very mindful of the shortage of resource people in Drayton Valley. And, it's something they are always working on.

Each of the seven district offices in Edmonton are now responsible for administering a variety of Social Service programs and each has only one manager to deal with all the programs within a specific region.

The new system will see four of the district offices specialize in child welfare cases, while the other three will focus exclusively on income security cases. Each program will have an individual manager.

The changes, slated to begin in September, won't have much effect on the eight Edmonton region offices outside the city.

Deadline nears for bowl funds

Bowl-a-thon sponsor sheets and money must be turned in by May 31 in order to qualify for prizes, says coordinator Gail Biedler.

The sheets can be turned in at the Treasury Branch or at the Shangri-La Lodge.

Biedler says that so far only one-third of the money raised during the bowl-a-thon has been received by organizers.

Lottery tickets for every $25 worth of sponsors will be available at Value Drug Mart beginning June 1.

Biedler says that QCTV will be airing a two-hour highlight package of the bowl-a-thon either this weekend or next weekend. The program will air Friday through Tuesday at various times. Watch the QCTV announcement board for details.

Work is expected to start before the end of the month on the 17-kilometre gravel section along Highway 22 between Drayton Valley Rocky Mountains House. Surveyors were working in the area last week.

County of Parkland hopes to meet with Alberta school officials this week to discuss the delay in ratifying or denying a new school district in the area. A vote on the issue was held March 1.

Merv Tkachuk, superintendent of schools for the county, says the delay is affecting Parkland's long-range educational planning.

Traffic lines have been pointed out on two of the worst traffic areas in town, namely in front of the post office and the Royal Canadian Legion.

RCMP were called out to investigate dust blowing across the road near the junction of Highways 39 and 22 last week. It had been reported that soil off nearby fields was creating hazardous driving conditions.

The Drayton Valley Fire Department answered an alarm last Tuesday evening at the Buck Creek dumpster. According to Fire Chief Sheldon Foson, the fire just scorched the paint.

Services were installed last week for the new lots at the Pleasant View Trailer Court, located south of town on 50th Street.

Alberta Transportation was busy last Wednesday patching sections of the road on Highway 20 between the Alhambra corner and Breton.

The RCMP are investigating an incident at the Pembina Grazing Reserve south of Cynthia during the long weekend.

A call was shot and butted. The incident took place Friday or early Saturday morning.

Scholarship win leads to Wales

By Steve Fletcher

Derek Hruska learned recently he will be spending the next two years in a 14th century castle near Cardiff, Wales.

In the process, Hruska, 17, will become the first Drayton Valley high school student ever to win a scholarship to the prestigious United World College — one of six public colleges offering study leading to an international baccalaureate degree.

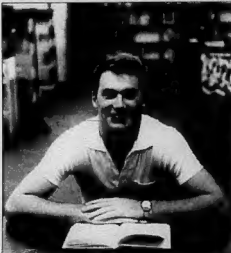

Only eight Grade 11 students in Alberta are selected for the program every year.

Hruska, who has always been interested in world travel, says Wales was his first choice among the six colleges he could have been designated to go to.

"It's the one I know the most about. It intrigued me first."

The college in Wales, like the other five, places a premium on community service. All students are required to either participate in cliff or sea rescue. Hruska, who likes all sports, says he's looking forward to attempting both endeavors.

Jim Wolff, the school's counsellor, said Hruska's selection is the opportunity of a lifetime.

Derek Hruska is one of eight Albertans to win scholarship.

"We're going to miss him. For our sake, we wish he wouldn't have been accepted."

A chief objective of all United World colleges is to promote a better understanding between nations and cultures.

Social adaptability is therefore a key pre-requisite to being accepted into the program, Hruska said.

"You're going to school with a lot of people from different cultures and races," he pointed out. "You bring your country to them and they bring theirs to you."

The former Drayton Valley Devil's scholastic success was also important in his selection: Hruska's academic average hovers in the low 80s.

Being 19 years old with an I.B. degree won't look bad on your resume, especially when you're considering enrolling in Harvard University later on down the road.

Hruska plans on studying medicine and hopes to eventually specialize in cardiac surgery. He believes his I.B. degree, which qualifies him to begin second year university, may be helpful when he tries for entry into one of the world's greatest post-secondary institutions.

"Harvard has one of the best medical schools around," said Hruska. "The opportunities following graduation from there are tremendous."

Hruska, who grew up in Forestburg before moving to Drayton Valley in 1985, credits his parents for his self-motivation.

They (Gene and Deanna) always encouraged me to make plans early and work towards them."

Hruska leaves for Wales at the end of August.

Caterpillar program appears successful

The town's war with the dreaded caterpillar has been a one-sided affair, says recreation director Paul Nielsen.

"There's no doubt it's working," he maintained. "The areas sprayed so far are littered with dead caterpillars."

Nielsen has been coordinating the spraying program since it began May 13. He said last Thursday all that remains is to finish spraying the boulevards.

There have been lots of calls about boulevards trees. Nielsen noted, adding that they are the most difficult to get at because of vehicles parked on the sides of streets.

The town will spray again this week in order to wipe-out caterpillars that may have hatched late or moved in from other areas.

Nielsen said the town is considering serial spraying its larger areas next year in order to "get full coverage" of the heavily-forested sections, such as West Valley Park.

Town worker Darren Urkevich sprays trees infested with caterpillars on 50th Avenue.

Curling club

Legion's donation may entice others

Members of the Drayton Valley Community Centre Society must be feeling pretty good.

The 12-member volunteer group was formed to push for a community centre to be built in conjunction with the town's new arena.

But when the plans for the arena were announced, nothing in the way of meeting the extra needs of the community were included.

That left the curling club, who planned to build a six-sheet facility adjacent to the new arena in West Valley Park.

Enter the Royal Canadian Legion.

Thanks to a whopping $250,000 donation from the Legion, a 40-by-80-foot recreation area will be part of the new curling rink.

That recreation area will serve the needs of many community groups, and according to the curling club president, will make the rink a facility that can be utilized 12 months of the year.

The Royal Canadian Legion in Drayton Valley has quite a reputation for coming to the financial aid of many groups.

But, they (the executive and general membership) are to be commended for committing a quarter of a million dollars over the next four years to a facility that will serve so many.

It is hoped the Legion's commitment to the future of this community will rub off on others, so both facilities can be built as quickly as possible.

There's talk the mid-August Tomahawk rodeo won't be held this year. Seems only two people showed up to a recent meeting.

If this rodeo isn't held, it will be a real shame. It's one rodeo people in this part of the country look forward to every year.

Hopefully, those who have helped in the past, will somehow find the time to put on one more show.

Impaired driving fine of no consequence

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to some incidents in our legal society which really have me disturbed. These incidents involve impaired driving and the resulting consequences.

The first incident happened a few months ago when I was driving home and was involved in an accident because an impaired driver was so out of it he did not know where the road was and where to drive. This driver was finally taken off the road after colliding with me and totalling both our vehicles.

Anyway, to make a long story a little shorter I'll try to state my view as brief as possible.

This driver who had been charged with (a) driving over the legal limit of .08 and (b) impaired driving - his driving had been further impaired by the mixing of medication and alcohol, was in court recently. This driver received as punishment, for endangering the lives of many, a six-month suspended license and a $400 fine for driving over .08. The other charge was dismissed or dropped because this man's doctor did not infer that his 58-year-old father and grandfather he should not mix drugs with alcohol.

Another thing that really upset me about his monetary fine is that while sitting in the courtroom I saw cases go through which were not as serious, in my view, receiving the same fine. The offence was - driving with no insurance.

My question is this: "Are these lawbreakers as great a threat to the safety of our society as a slobbering drunk driving aimlessly down the highway?"

Another incident for comparison is one which was recently reported in your newspaper about another first offender drunk driver. This driver also received a six-month suspended license but his fine wasn't for $400, but $1,200! To the best of my knowledge this man was neither involved in an accident or killed anyone, yet he received the harsher of the two fines - why the discrepancy?

The only conclusion I can draw from society after these viewings is that don't drive without insurance because you are a dangerous and despicable low-down rat and the law will hit you hard. But that it is all right to go out and get sloshed to the gills, take a few pain killers or your local prescribed drug - so that you're really out of it, stagger over to your vehicle, get in and drive. Drive as fast as you can ALL OVER the place. But remember not to get caught until you've just about killed someone so that your fine will be extremely light.

I have two more comments: Firstly, thank you to the RCMP who were on duty that night and tried to get this man off the road before it was too late. But had after doing your job the judicial system doesn't do theirs. Another thank you to all the people who stopped to help out and kept me calm and see the brighter side - that I was alive!

Secondly, to the business man who was giving this 58-year-old man a ride home from the courthouse and who told me not to be so bitter.

A YUKKIE PICNIC
Put yukkies in their place!

Here is something for you to think on: "If it was one of your three young daughters (18-34) or your lovely wife who had met this man on the night of December 7, 1987, would you not feel some bitterness towards this man for playing Russian roulette with the life of one of your precious family members?"

Park policy will give administrators future direction

A new park development policy will re-define the way parks are established in Drayton Valley, says recreation director Paul Nielsen.

The policy, drafted over the last eight months, gives administration some direction as to the type of parks required to properly serve their neighborhoods.

"Up to now park development has been done on a piecemeal basis - that's not meant to be negative but there's been very little planning," Nielsen said.

The recreation department hopes its new policy will help alleviate the possibility that future subdivisions will not have adequate park facilities.

As an example, Nielsen pointed out the Hillcrest area in the southwest section of town houses one-third of the population but has comparatively little park land.

Apart from their aesthetic qualities, parks are also an extremely important recreational facility," he said.

"If kids aren't playing in a park, they're going to be playing in the street," added Nielsen.

The policy, ratified by council at its May 12 regular meeting, attempts to ensure that each future park will meet the needs of its immediate residents.

Despite the fresh guidelines, Nielsen pointed out that removing the ad hoc system of park development altogether isn't feasible.

"There's always a little guesswork involved," he said. "It takes a lot of foresight in terms of the park's designation. You never know how big a subdivision will be."

Nielsen solicited opinions from similar-sized communities about park development and said he was surprised to discover "there weren't that many" towns with such policies.

"Parks are low on the list of considerations," he speculated. "They don't have as high a profile as swimming pools or arenas."

Nielsen countered this view by saying Hawerluk Park in Edmonton is the city's biggest attraction among recreational facilities.

He added that implementing the new guidelines has been one of his department's foremost priorities over the past year.

Development appeals

Residents join board

The development appeal board has two new members. Residents Cliff Lathe and Mary Helm had their applications to the board accepted by town council at its regular meeting May 12.

Lathe is retired and an active member of the volunteer fire department.

Helm is a businessman who has served on town council and has experience in the arbitration of land deals.

Terms of office for both positions expire December 31, 1990.

The vacancies followed the recent resignations of Larry Poffenroth and Wayne Carey.

Some local lottery lovers spend $50 a week on habit

Sonja Heinerman holds a fistful of potential dollars.

You can pick, scratch, match or draw them. They cost anywhere from $1 to $20 and they can be worth one to seven million dollars.

If you guessed lottery tickets you're right on the money.

Drayton Valley residents have a choice of nine different lottery tickets in many local stores. This abundance of tickets is just right for some local lottery lovers who buy up to $50 worth a week.

An average of $15,000 in tickets are sold at Value Drug Mart, says sales clerk Sonja Heinerman. According to store owner Diane Huska, D&J Confectionery sells anywhere from $8,000 to $10,000 in tickets per week.

Huska says weekly sales varies largely depending on the size of the jackpot of her biggest seller, 6/49. Both stores felt 6/49 accounted for almost half of weekly ticket sales, despite the slim chances of winning a jackpot.

According to The Canadian

World Almanac, the odds of winning a 6/49 jackpot are one in 13,983,816.

AMA will be examining vehicles

Who do you trust when seeking advice on the mechanical fitness of a vehicle? A sales person? The previous owner?

The Alberta Motor Association will be in Drayton Valley May 31 with a 'mobile vehicle diagnostic van.' A mechanic will inspect private vehicles and offer unbiased advice, including a written report, regarding necessary repairs. The information is of particular value to motorists who are considering the need for major repairs to a vehicle before a sale or purchase.

The 45-minute inspection is available to AMA members of $18. Non-members may use the service at a cost of $34.

The mobile diagnostic van will be located at Woodland Chrysler in Drayton Valley. Call Edmonton (collect) 453-5785 for an appointment.

Prentice elected president

Marty Prentice has been elected to a second term as president of the Big Brothers/Sisters club of Drayton Valley.

The group held its first annual meeting last week and elected a new board and ex-

The 1988-89 executive also includes Rick Wattrick (vice president), Gerty Love (treasurer), and Louise Bailey (secretary).

This year's budget was also passed at the meeting. Prenice says Big Brothers/Sisters requires about $6,000 and will be soliciting service clubs in town for donations.

It is also planning various projects to raise additional funds, he added.

Big Brothers/Sisters currently has approximately $1,400 in general revenue.

Prentice noted that matching bigs and littles isn't happening "as quickly as we thought," but he pointed out that screening prospective volunteers is a complex process.

Presently, there are nine children available, of which some have already been mated.

West Valley Park

Lipizzaners to perform

The beautiful white horses appearing at West Valley Park in Drayton Valley tonight (Wednesday) for a 7:30 p.m. performance have a unique and exciting history.

The rare and noble breed, created in the 16th century for Austria's royal house of Hapsburg, have been imported for this show. Only a few hundred Lipizzaners have been alive at any one time since their breeding was originally controlled by the monarch.

No commoner was allowed to own one, but nobles serving with the Austrian army were given 'Lipizzaners to ride'. The exacting balance movements and great leaps called the 'Airs Above The Ground' which today are performed solely for their beauty, were originally a tactic war, used by mounted men to inspire terror in the foot soldiers. No other breed can duplicate these maneuvers.

Known for its exceptional conformation, beauty and intelligence, the Lipizzan is the result of centuries of cross breeding of Spanish and Arabic-Oriental bloodlines. The horse was first bred by Spanish Moors from Andalusian and Arabian stock and the line remained essentially stable for the 700 years of the Moorish occupation.

During the Renaissance, the art of classical horsemanship was reviewed and several European countries established studs to preserve the Spanish strain. Emperor Maximilian II brought the Spanish horses to Austria in 1562. His brother, Archduke Charles, established a similar stud in 1580 in Lipizza near Trieste. The Lipizzan stud flourished and was infused toward the end of the 18th Century with additional Oriental

After 400 years of peaceful development, the stud was forced to flee on three occasions during the Napoleonic Wars, and was again evacuated in 1915.

In 1942 the Lipizzan stud was shipped for safe keeping to Czechoslovakia where, without the mares, the breed faced extinction. The dramatic tale of the stud's rescue and return to Austria by the forces of General Patton is vividly recounted in Walt Disney's film 'The Miracle of the White Stallions.'

Spectacular presentations are blended together for a colorful and stirring spectacle of majestic tradition and superb horsemanship in the Royal Lipizzan Stallion show.

This performance is being sponsored by the Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association.

Lipizzan horses will be on show this week.

Petro-Can club wins tourney

By Steve Fletcher

The Petro-Can Eagles hit their way to a first place finish in the A Division of Drayton Valley's first slow pitch tourney of the season.

A Division runners up were Electra Glide and After 10, respectively.

The tourney, which began Friday night and ended Sunday, was organized by the D.A.'s Ball Club.

D.A.'s member Diane Case said the tourney was a success and her club hopes to host event in town again next year.

Previously, the tourney was held in Seba Beach, but Case said the D.A.s decided to hold it in Drayton Valley this year because facilities were available.

Fifteen slow pitch clubs participated in the Victoria Day weekend round robin.

with each team being guaranteed four games.

The B Division was won by the Legendary Cooler Guards, while the Bisons finished second and the M&D Footballs came in third.

On the C side, first place went to the Raiders, with the Shock Squad coming second and the Moon Lake Aces third.

Case said the D.A.s are requesting all participating teams mail in any comments they may have regarding the organization of the tourney.

The D.A.s didn't play in the event, but instead handled all umping and scorekeeping duties.

Case added that only $500 of the entry-fee money was held back to cover expenses, all that remained was used as prize money.

Three members of the Derrick Boxing Club have been honored for their work in the sport.

Doug Hollanatz is the 1987-88 recipient of the Presidents Award which is presented annually to the person contributing the most to amateur boxing in Alberta.

And, the husband-wife team of Lawrence and Evelina Duperron were presented with 30-year pins at the association's annual meeting held recently in Red Deer.

Hollanatz, an assistant coach with the Derrick Boxing Club says his selection as winner of the President's Award came as a complete surprise.

The modest Hollanatz said, "I just thought I was doing my job like everyone else."

"It was pretty tough," Hollanatz was re-elected to a two-year term as director in charge of athletes at the annual meeting. He had just completed a one-year stint on the board.

Earlier this year Hollanatz spent a month in Korea on a boxing exchange program.

Most of Lawrence Duperron's 30 years in boxing have been in Drayton Valley. "I've never regretted a minute," he says.

"There's were times last

Lawrence Duperron

Doug Hollanatz

year (when the club was looking for gym space) when I just about said to hell with it, but I'm glad I didn't," he added.

Commenting on his wife's 30-year award, Duperron said, "She's put up with me for 30 years. And has done as much as I have for the kids."

While most of the boxing clubs around the province are taking the summer off, it's a different story for the Drayton Valley club.

They will host a six-day Sports Outreach camp Aug. 7-12.

The intent of the camp is to promote amateur boxing in the province.

Valerie Soli said business was brisk.

Soli is returning to the booth for a second year, as is colleague Jodi Kynoch.

A third employee is expected to be named this week.

"It looks very promising," Duperron says.

The camps, sponsored by Alberta Sports Council, haven't been all that successful in past years, but both Hollanatz and Duperron are excited about the enthusiasm the Drayton Valley camp is generating.

Each boxer attending the camp will pay a $200 tuition fee. If they complete the camp, they will be given a $100 scholarship.

The camp, open to boxers 13 years of age and up, will be staged in the Derrick Boxing Club's downtown gym.

Tourist information booth opens for another season

The tourist information booth is ready for another summer of inquisitive vacationers.

The booth opened its doors for the first time this year on Saturday and employee

The chamber has installed a carpet in the booth in hopes of providing improved comfort for road-weary visitors.

The booth is located on 50th Avenue at the Esso service station.

Minor baseball league seeing surge in numbers

By Michael McQuillan
Minor baseball seems to be growing in leaps and bounds in Drayton Valley.

This year 297 kids have joined the league, almost 100 more than the previous year, says minor baseball president, Sandy Buchan.

Buchan is pleasantly surprised by the larger turnout of girls this season as well. The league now boasts 90 girls amongst its ranks.

This season there are 15 teams in all of the divisions except midge.

The past success of minor ball and people becoming more interested in sports are possible reasons for the surge of little leaguers, says Buchan. "Baseball follows a lot of sports leagues in the area that have increased recently," he says.

This season two local tournaments are planned. The Oilfield league, which comprises the majority of teams, will host a tournament May 29-30. Teams in Drayton Valley will be the home sides for a rodeo weekend tournament, June 11-12.

The main fund-raising event for minor ball will be through ticket sales for the performance of the Lippizaner Stallions, May 25. Profits from the operation of the Lions Park concession stand will also help out minor ball.

Making diamond 4 into an all-weather surface is one of the objectives for fund raising this year, says Buchan.

Uniforms, equipment and maintenance of the diamonds are other avenues for the funds, he says.

League organizers have recently made a bid for the 1989 summer Beaver Nationals. Buchan feels the local organization will be successful with the bid if they add an all-season diamond.

What Is Ownership?

Ownership at Birchwood, is simply stated: that you own your own land FOR EVER. With that and flows all the attributes of real estate: that being, you can sell it, mortgage it, trade it, will it, or re-sell it.

Perhaps an easier way to understand ownership is to compare it to owning a lot in the city you live in. You can own your site at Birchwood just that way. HOWEVER IT IS IMPORTANT NOT TO CONFUSE OWNERSHIP WITH LEASES OR MEMBERSHIP (like SHARE'S). Think about it: there is a difference and ownership is the only way to go. It is also worth noting that upon completion of the project, Birchwood will be owned by you, the residents. Yes, you will own the super leisure centre, the parks and the golf course. That is just one more fabulous feature of ownership at Birchwood, your resort!

Seniors practising for games

By Stacey Orlesky
Senior citizens at the Seniors Drop In Centre are busy preparing for the Alberta Senior Games to be held June and July. Practising hard in curling, golf, darts, cribbage, horseshoeing, shuffleboard and other activities the seniors hope to have a good chance at the Games. Starting June 1 participants will be going to Cherhill Community Hall to compete in floor curling. On June 6 they are off to Senabeck to compete in the area playoffs in golf and then return to play June 24. Floor competitions start June 9 for the duplicate and the contract games will be June 22; both are held in Beacon. Zone playoffs in cribbage will be played in Kintwistle June 15.
On June 16 participants in darts will be going to Cadomin to compete. Old time dance will be June 11 at Sangudo. Slow pitch is June 28 and 29 in Tigerhill.
Although there are no registered competitors yet in cycling the game will start June 18. This is with any kind of bike, tri-cycle, bicycle, etc. July competitions start with the swimming tournaments at Spruce Grove July 1.
Shuffleboard competitions will be held at Sherwood Park July 5.
Snooker is just three days after at Stony Plain on July 8. All the Games start at 10 a.m.

As a result of a Canada wide survey in 1966-67, they found the hearing-impaired child seemed to be a neglected person as far as identification and rehabilitation were concerned, and in many cases, such children were being segregated from society and looked upon as a group that just had to do the best they could.

In many instances they were wrongly diagnosed.

This survey provided information that many children were seven or eight years old before they were classified as

"deaf" and then were segregated from the home environment and society and sent away to separate schools and educational institutions.

As a result of these findings, and in consultation with a group of professional audiologists and speech pathologists, the organization created a nation-wide publicity campaign and a slogan "Early Detection of Hearing Impairment is Your Responsibility," which included billboards and a poster campaign.

In cooperation with these and other professionals, they continued to develop special clinics, mobile programs and international conferences to provide information and hope to the parents of these children.

Now, after 20 years and over $5 billion they are seeing children identified with hearing loss in the first days or weeks of life.

Special rehabilitation programs for the preschool child have brought about integration into the regular school system and society and an opportunity to live in a home environment where the whole family participates and shares in their success.

As the Elks Purple Cross Fund continues to help all children in need the hearing impaired will continue to be a special concern.

Now You Will.

The 1988 AOC/NAIT Entrepreneur's Conference
September 9, 10 & 11 Westin Hotel, Edmonton

Starting a new business can be like finding your way through a maze. But I don't have to be. This conference is an entrepreneur's guide to some of the toughest challenges you'll face including Start-up, Operating, Breaking Even, Expanding, Hiring and Firing, Delegating, Managing and much more. Get a head start at the AOC/NAIT Entrepreneur's Conference. Launching A Business will give you critical start-up information. You'll learn how to launch your own business from scratch or how to buy an existing business or franchise. Got a great idea? Need to prepare a winning business plan? We'll show you how. Ever wonder how to find the right lawyer and how to get the most from him or her? Learn how at our conference.

Or, maybe you're ready to start, but you don't know how to get the money you need. We'll show you some financing alternatives. You'll also hear from successful entrepreneurs on how they got to be where they are now - available information from people who developed their businesses into success stories.

The 1988 AOC/NAIT Entrepreneur's Conference - priceless information for entrepreneurs for only $195.00 for the three day Conference. If you register before July 15, After July 16, $245.00. Attend one day for $85.00.

Track and field competitions will be on May 27.

Kindergarten graduation will be held May 31.

Dress code not in the works at school

What a student wears to school is not an issue at Frank Middlesex high school in Drayton Valley.

"Students usually dress in good taste," principal Al Day told The Western Review.

In Edmonton, some school trustees want tougher dress codes for high school students. But students have served notice they won't give up their jeans, t-shirts, shorts, sneakers and designer sweats.

"If the shorts are too short, the student would be asked to change," Day said.

Day could only remember one such incident in the last three years.

County of Parkland doesn't have a dress code. Those decisions are left with the school principals.

"We have no major concerns," Mary Thachuk, superintendent of schools for the county stated.

A decision on what students attending Edmonton high schools will allow to wear, or not to wear, will be discussed before the end of the month.

First aid course prepares holidayers for camping blues

A St. John Ambulance first aid course will prepare you to treat injuries or illnesses that may occur on a camping trip.

Burns, fractures and sprains, hypothermia, bee and wasp stings, blood sucker or leech bites, heat exhaustion, stopped breathing, severe bleeding, unconsciousness and shock are all potential injuries and hazards for which you should be prepared.

St. John Ambulance offers these first aid tips for campers

Burns Immediately immerse the burn area in cold water to relieve pain. Cover the burn with dry, sterile dressings and bandage lightly. Do not use any ointments on a burn, except for mild sunburn where a cooling lotion may be used.

Fractures and sprains Steady and support the injury. Do not move the casualty, unless necessary for safety reasons. Dress wounds and control bleeding. Secure the limb with bandages over padded splints if the casualty must be moved.

Hypothermia Hypothermia is not limited to winter. Cold mountain lakes, chilly summer evenings and a person's general condition can all contribute to hypothermia in the warmer seasons.

Shivering, slurred speech, stumbling and drowsiness, after exposure to cold, are signs of hypothermia. Unconsciousness and stopped breathing may follow. Move gently to shelter. Movement or rough handling can upset heart rhythm.

Remove wet clothing; wrap in warm covers.

Rewarm neck, chest, abdomen and groin, but not limbs. Direct body heat can be applied by huddling with the person in a sleeping bag. Give warm drinks if conscious. Monitor breathing and give artificial respiration if necessary. b) Capital Equipment Reserve	10,758.00
NET AMOUNT OF BORROWING	$110,570.00

In order to carry out this project, the Council intends to apply to the Local Authorities Board for authorization to borrow an estimated amount of $110,570.00.

The Council will repay the borrowed amount by debenture repayable in 10 consecutive annual installments with interest at a rate not exceeding fourteen per centum (14%) per annum, or with interest not exceeding the rate fixed from time to time by the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation, payable annually.

The Council anticipates that the full amount of the estimated borrowing amount of $110,570.00 will be recovered from the Province of Alberta School Foundation Program Fund.

Excluding Building Quality Restoration Program projects, the actual division of costs between the School Foundation Program Fund and the Council will be determined within 3 years from the time of the Minister approves the tender or other scheme of construction.

If you do not agree that the Council should borrow this amount, you may petition for a vote in accordance with the provisions of the School Act.

The petition must be signed by at least 2% of the electors in a district or division having 10,000 electors or more and be received by the board within 15 days of the last publication of this public notice of the proposed debenture borrowing. The last publication date will be May 31, 1988.

ALBERTA REGULATION NO. 340/82

Blame for health care increase spread three ways

Pick your culprit: the doctors, the public, the politicians. Each tends to blame the other two for "uncontrolled" increases in health care costs. This, and the next two columns, will examine some of the reasons health care costs have gone up.

In fact, when expressed as a percentage of gross national product (GNP) (an accepted standard), health care costs have changed little over the past few decades (but that is a different story).

Are there too many doctors? We are told reducing the numbers would lower the costs. Undeniable. But who would care for the patients, many of whom wait too long now for appointments?

But doctors do generate costs. They are trained to be meticulous and complete in reaching a diagnosis. They have access, in most cases, to lab tests, CT scans, ultrasound, and a myriad of other expensive tools which help them do better work.

And is it not better to spend $250 on a CT scan and get a diagnosis today rather than spend a week using older methods?

Malpractice, medical misadventure, and negligence are doctor-related costs. Ever-increasing judgement amounts have resulted in a doubling of malpractice premiums every year or so - a cost that must come from increased fees. More importantly, in order to avoid lawsuits doctors may order extra tests to cover themselves in court. The cost? Many millions of dollars that could be better spent.

Overservicing - seeing a patient too many times - does occur. Some is the result of practice style, some of the malpractice threat, and, regrettably, some is an income-generating scheme used by a few doctors who, for one reason or another, are not kept busy enough. Monitoring of billing patterns by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta usually catches these physicians.

Research doctors also generate costs through new discoveries. Cholesterol levels, open-heart surgery, new drugs for blood pressure, and high-tech in general give their front-line clinician colleagues much more to offer their patients better care, at greater cost, perhaps, but often balanced by a more rapid return to health and productivity. (Medically Speaking is published with the cooperation with this newspaper and the Alberta Medical Association.)

A BIG THANKS TO ALBERTA'S YOUNG VOLUNTEER CLEAN-UP CREW

All Albertans owe a thank you to the 10,630 volunteers from Alberta's 4 H Clubs, Junior Forest Wardens and other youth groups who took part in this year's annual highway clean-up campaign.

This year's campaign, cleaned 9,228 kilometers of Alberta primary highway and resulted in the removal of 67,343 bags of litter.

Thanks to those terrific young people and to Alberta motorists who drove with extra care while our "crew" was on the road.

MUNICIPAL MANAGER

The new Municipal District of Brazeau No. 77 due to be formally incorporated on July 1, 1988, has a unique opportunity for the right individual. This newly created rural municipality, with its head quarters in Drayton Valley, will face many interesting challenges in determining service priorities, an organization structure, staffing levels, joint use agreements and so on.

As chief administrative officer the Municipal Manager will be directly responsible to Council and will:

- act as Municipal Secretary and Treasurer
- manage the overall administration
- supervise all staff
- oversee and operate the administration
- advise Council on policies, programs and budgets
- act as Development Officer
- review service and staffing needs
- establish new systems, etc.

The Council is looking for someone who is creative, conceptual, intelligent, a "people person" who has solid management skills with particular strength in municipal finance. Such an individual must be equally comfortable in dealing with the local community with its emphasis in the oil and gas industry, forestry and farming as well as members of a corporate boardroom. Top candidates will illustrate their readiness for this position through academic achievement, related experience and a proven track record.

Interested candidates are invited to submit their resumes in confidence to:

THE HEAT IS ON.

CHECKSTOP Alberta

Drinking and driving is a criminal offence.

THE HEAT IS ON and you should know that police forces across Alberta who operate CHECKSTOP and other impaired driving programs will be intensifying their activities to target drinking and driving this summer.

Drink and drive and you can be sure that CHECKSTOP will get you.

Attention: Drivers who drink and drive

You Will Get Caught! 430,495 vehicles were stopped at over 27,400 CHECKSTOPS in 1987.

You Will Be Charged! 19,029 Albertans were charged with an impaired driving offence through CHECKSTOP and other programs in 1987.

You Will Be Punished! 18,125 Albertans were convicted of impaired driving offences and had their licence suspended, paid heavy fines or were imprisoned for this criminal offence in 1987.

You Might End Up Dead! Almost 27% of drivers in fatal collisions were drinking prior to the collision. Another 12% of those involved in accidents that led to serious injury were also drinking prior to the accident.

New Legislation Introduced

New legislation has been recently introduced which provides for longer sentences, increased fines, penalties to persons who allow suspended drivers to operate their vehicle, and the immobilization of vehicles of impaired drivers.

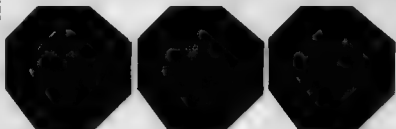

The message is loud and clear. THE HEAT IS ON - DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE!

RCMP declare war on vandalism

By Frank Ryan

Concerns have been raised over the increasing amount of vandalism in the area.

Councillor Howard Olsen told a recent town council meeting that some people were under the impression the park was designated as a place to party.

He said the broken glass and other garbage left behind cost the town a fair amount of money. And, it was a hazard to the children.

Councillor Alex Salfi says it's not a new problem. "We've known about it for years," he said.

The problem is causing a lot of headaches for recreation director Paul Neilson and his department.

One of his biggest concerns is over glass products being smashed against the old pool building.

The problem is the glass is getting into the sand. The kids run around there in their bare feet and that's a major concern," Neilson says.

Neilson also says that picnic tables have either been removed or smashed to pieces and metal garbage containers have been crushed.

"We never seem to catch them. It's happening at funny times," he added.

The worst place according to Neilson is at the Rotary Park tennis courts.

Broken glass, beer cans and garbage is also a concern to Rick Watrick, who coaches the track and field team at Frank Maddock high school. He says it's obvious that parties are held on the track south of the school.

A trail of vandalism is evident at Willy West campground, just across the North Saskatchewan River bridge.

Writing is plastered all over the walls, both in and outside the cook shack. And, one of the water pumps has been bent over, despite its concrete base.

Concerns have also been aired by County of Parkland officials.

Ed Haykowsky, west end coordinator for the Parks and Recreation department says it's obvious from the trail of broken glass that major parties have been held at Easyford.

"There was tons of broken glass all over," he stated. And, two doors were ripped off the washrooms.

Haykowsky is hoping the addition of summer staff at the park will ease the vandalism problem.

Another problem area is Ladgpole Park, where picnic tables have disappeared.

In all the cases, the concern over vandalism has been discussed with the RCMP.

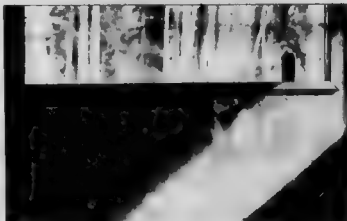

"We've asked them to step up patrols," Haykowsky admits. The town has also asked the RCMP to watch such out-of-the-way places as the tennis courts by the hospital and West Valley Park.

Water pump at Willy West is damaged.

Broken glass is a concern for parents.

Let's Party scribbled on the inside walls at Willy West.

New cook house at Willy West has been the target of white paint.

Husband-wife team can compete with city

After a quarter-century of installing other people's carpet, Ron Sullivan has decided it's time to be his own boss.

Ron and wife Arlene purchased E.L.M. Carpet Land last October from long-time proprietor Lorraine McLean.

Ron says buying the store was a calculated decision. "I'm not going to be able to install carpet my whole life," he said. "So I thought I'd get set up in a store and (even though) I just sell and let someone else install."

Ron was born in Tomahawk and raised in the Drayton Valley area. He's been installing carpets throughout the region since his early 20s.

The fact he's also the store's installer along with help from son Sheldon, makes for faster service. "It's a bonus for the customer," Ron pointed out.

Arlene grew up in Bawlf, Alberta. She and Ron were married almost two years ago.

Being a husband-and-wife team keeps the carpet business a constant conversation piece.

"You try not to take too much home, but you do...it's not that bad," said Ron.

E.L.M. Carpet Land currently has about 7,000 square feet of carpet in stock. Other than carpet, the store also has supplies of vinyl, ceramic tile, wallpaper, mats, runners and other accessories.

The owners say their service-oriented business can compete hands-down with larger counterparts in the cities.

"Our service is better here than it is in Edmonton," said Ron.

Ron and Arlene Sullivan are service-oriented.

"...It's our number one priority. It's hard to get (this type of) service anymore. Nobody wants to provide it."

Ron and Arlene say no bigger changes are in store for E.L.M. Carpet Land — at least, not at the moment.

"We're going to go slowly," noted Ron. "We'll probably just give it a little face lift and play it by ear."

More students staying longer in high school

Not everyone attending Grade 12 at Frank Maddock will graduate.

Principal Al Day says that about 140 of the 180 students taking Grade 12 will graduate.

The reasons are simple.

Day says there's a growing trend across the province that sees Grade 12 students returning to class because they want to improve their marks, or get enough credits.

He says that more students, upon entering high school, are looking at spending three and four years in grades 10, 11 and 12, in order to get the marks they need.

Starting a "repeat" students will need a 70 per cent average just to get into the University of Alberta.

Frank Maddock high school isn't the only school in the County of Parkland that has seen an abundance of returning Grade 12s. In Stony Plain, between 70 and 80 Grade 12 students returned to classes this year.

It adds maturity to the school, Day says.

Schultz, Kelly resign

Directors with the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce continue to play musical chairs.

The latest change on the chamber executive sees Rod Schultz and Simon Kelly submit their resignations.

Their positions will be filled by Joe Melnyk, chief engineer with Norva and Peter Rowe, manager of I.T.V., an oilfield supply business in Drayton Valley.

Chart A Career Certificate Course

Charting a route that will prepare you for a job? An excellent place to start is at NAET. One-year certificate programs in the following fields may be just what you need to get you on course.

- Diesel Mechanics
- Millwright
- Electrician
- Welding
- Millwright and Carpentry

Consider the advantages:

- the programs are only 34 weeks in length
- you don't need a high school diploma to enter - Grade 10 English, Math and Science are required
- job opportunities for graduates are expanding
- credit toward apprentice training may be granted
- financial assistance may be available for qualifying applicants

Enrollment is limited by quotas. Apply now to avoid disappointment. For additional information, call 471-7411.

Guaranteed original recipes

(Out of the mouths of the kindergarten "cooks") Children of the Emmaus Lutheran Kindergarten, with the help of their teachers, put together a collection of their version of their favorite recipes - guaranteed original! A few examples are:

Hamburgers

Christopher Reinhardt

She cooks them first in the pan with the lid that has the holes to let the steam out. She plugs it into the wall. I put ketchup and cheese on mine, sometimes relish. I can eat only one but my dad eats two. They are good!

Chocolate cake

Leah Burdette

She puts sugar in the bowl-cupfull and some flour - 3 or 4 cupfull! That's all I can remember. She mixes it with the mixer. She puts it in the pan and cooks it in the oven. I don't know how long. She lets it cool down then she puts chocolate icing on it.

We get to eat it after it cools down. I get one piece.

Cupcakes with chocolate chips and sprinkles

Christopher Reinhardt

First she heats up the oven. And then she puts 5 cups of baking powder and 2 eggs, 2 scoops of sugar, and 5 cups of flour and 6 cups of chocolate chips and sometimes she puts in 5 cups more of sugar. She mixes it up with the blender. Then she puts them in the pan and then in the oven - it takes 15 minutes and when they turn out they are HUGE! Then she puts icing on them and puts sprinkles all over them. I always get to eat one and one of my friends get two if he wants.

Macaroni with meat

Dawn Wainwright

First she sets the table. She boils some water on the stove and adds 2 boxes of macaroni. She cooks it till it's ready. Then she cooks the meat in the frying pan. Then she mixes them together. I eat one plate all gone.

Chocolate chip cookies

Barbara Dumbauld

She uses dough and flour, I think 2 gallons. We put eggs in - one, no, actually 2. We put chocolate chips in, 2 and 250. There are about 8 chips in each cookie. She mixes them with a mixer. She rolls them, puts them on a cookie sheet and squishes them down with a glass. She cooks them, I don't know how long, how about we say 40 minutes. She puts them on the counter on those things with lines running down, until they are cool and then she puts them in a cookie jar. I get to eat only one.

Alder Flats

Sisters reunited after 35 years

By Bernice Johnson

The open house held May 7 and 8 for Ed and Debra Bossert, was also the setting for a family reunion.

Ed's aunt, Christina Hartmann, of Eisenhuettenstadt, East Germany, arrived in Calgary April 17. Upon her arrival at her sister's, Lilli Young, family members gathered there to celebrate Marie Zielke's (mother) 79th birthday and Christina's 50th. Her arrival in Canada was planned to coincide with their birthdays.

In 1953 the Zielke family left East Germany for West Germany, leaving Christina behind with her husband. Two years later they left Germany to make their home in Canada.

They landed in Montreal in July 1955 and settled in the Taber area. The parents, Marie and Alexander were back for a visit to Germany 12 years ago and Wanda and Fred Bassert in 1984 and Edmund, Zilly and Helene have also been to their homeland. For the others it was the first reunion with their sister in 35 years. Gat well wishes to Lois Robinson in the Drayton Valley hospital.

There was a very good turnout to the Mother's Day breakfast at the community hall. It was sponsored by the Covenant Church. The men prepared and served the breakfast to the mothers.

The annual Buck Lake Oldtimers Reunion will be held Sunday, June 5 at 10 a.m. It would be appreciated if the ladies in the district would bring food for the noon meal or afternoon snack.

Alder Flats' second annual race meet and amateur rodeo is Saturday, May 28.

And counting...

Lordy, lordy, the vice principal's 40. Evergreen school's Chris Kelly was "thrilled" when he went to work last week and discovered his students had not forgotten his birthday, especially when it's such a milestone.

We're slaves to our pride

By Tim Lees, youth pastor
Calvary Baptist Church
Conflict between people is a part of life.

It's an inevitable as bad breath in the morning. The capacity to lock horns with people came in the package with our humanity. Sooner or later someone offends us and we offend them with what we say or do or expect.

Conflict, whatever the issue
may be, will divide relationships, husband and wife, parent and child, friend and friend. Walls of resentment grow between two people in conflict.

We think to ourselves "He said this and did this or that to me and I deserve an apology." Sad to say, to have our pride satisfied by the other person's apology often becomes more important to us than the relationship that's been severed by the conflict in the first place.
And the longer the conflict is left unresolved, the bigger the wall between the people will become.

There is a way to resolve conflict. The Bible teaches that if a person sins against me or offends me I need to go and talk to him privately and

From
the Pastor's Pen

point out to him how he has wronged me (Matthew 18:15) Implied is the need for honesty and speaking the truth in love, along with the desire to put things right without involving the rest of the neighborhood.

The ball is always in our court when it comes to conflict. Whether we're the offended or the offender, or both, the bottom line is it's our responsibility to put things right. Are we willing to do this?

Any way you look at it, it's hard. Our human pride doesn't make it easy for us to resolve conflicts. We would much rather sound the battle cry. In some ways we're actually slaves to our pride.

But the Bible says the man who is controlled by God is set free from his own sinful nature (Romans 8:6-9).
Think about a life where we could be free to say "I'm sorry," free to take that first step toward ending an ancient quarrel, free to speak truthfully and honestly to each other, free to not be uptight when we're with that person who just ruins us the wrong way.

Whose influence is guiding you in your conflicts? Yours?
or God's?

Bantam ball teams desperately in need of coaches

By Shell Carson
896-2320

Baseball is now under way with teams from Bantam to T-ball registered with the Alberta Baseball Association. Pat Hanson is coaching T-ball, Mike Wolten coaches mites, Ernie McKernan the mosquitoes, Gerry Poiel the beavers, Dan Stroman is coaching the bantams and Alex Waldron is in charge of bantam A.

The Bantam team is desperately in need of coaching help. Stroman offered to stand in as coach until another is found, but the team may have to fold if no help is found. The season will be over by the end of June, so the time commitment is relatively short. Please help if you can.

Bantam Minor Ball Association executive held their meeting May 5 at the home of Charlene Friesen. Motions were made to purchase uniforms for mites (tops), beavers (full uniform) and T-ball (T-shirts). It was previously decided each player would be refunded $5 from his or her registration fee if uniforms were turned in at the end of the ball season.

The executive would like to clarify that in the case of the T-shirts players are encouraged to waive the refund and simply keep the shirt as they usually are not in good enough shape at the end of the season to be used again.

All other players are asked to return their uniforms at a date and time which will be set up later. Please watch your paper for details.

Soccer has also started with an extremely large number of youth registered. Coach Dan Stroman is again appealing to the public for coaching help. If you can give some assistance please call 696-3523.

In high school girls' softball the junior high and senior high girls are undefeated to date.

In the Modeste Creek Slow Pitch League Martins and O-Slo are tied in first place with 12 points, Breton, Lakelse and Moose Hill are holding second place with 10 points, Outlaws have six points and Berrymoor, Lindale, Alake, Funnell and Wenham Valley all have two points. Breton and Berrymoor each have a game in hand.

Several young people from the Breton area attended the Leduc Music Festival last month. Participating in speech arts were Christie Myles, Tyler Hanson, Bonnie Jean Hanson, Azurles Bevan, Amanda Breikreus, Blaine Lapierre and Erin Ollenberg. Myles received first place in narrative dramatics, and first in lyric poetry (14 and under). Bevan was second in lyric poetry (six and under) and Breikreus was second in narrative poetry (six and under). Lapierre was first in narrative poetry (six and under). All participants received merit awards for placing 60 per cent or higher in the festival.

Lindale Gymkhana Club held their Fun Days May 7. Gordon Pinyon and Duane Fenneman of Breton, Delbert Maine of Drayton Valley and Doug Baird of Spruce Grove dominated the heavy horse events. Dawn Shipton of Lindale took the pony race. Frank Naah's grey horse won the open flat races.

Faulley Badgerow of Lindale won the junior barrel racing while Faye Brooks of Rocky Rapids won the ladies barrel racing. Sheryl Pinyon won the dollar bill race, the Seely team from Alder Flats won the rawhide race and Ken Pinyon of Breton won the relay race. Ron Harden of Drayton Valley won the pony chariot race and Jim Lawson of Drayton Valley won the pony chuckwagon races.

Albertans are coming in record numbers to the Calgary Zoo for a first-hand look at the two giant pandas on display from China. The Calgary Zoo contracted with the Chinese Zoo Gardens to have the two pandas sent to Calgary.

The 1988 Winter Olympics were used to help promote conservation of the giant panda, with great public response.

The pandas' danger of extinction stems from the demand for farm land in China. This has forced the pandas into the mountains where the bamboo forests are dying off and there is a shortage of food.

The Chinese government in an effort to save the pandas have helped to establish 12 reserves for the pandas, have done land research, and relocated farmers.

The money the Calgary Zoo makes from the pandas being on display will go towards the conservation of the pandas. The Calgary Zoo offers awareness programs to allow the public to become informed about these endangered animals.

The pandas' stay in Calgary is limited, they will return to China in September. In the meantime, concerned zoo officials will seek ways to help the giant panda find a brighter future.

Pamphlet lists ag industry services

Alberta Agriculture has released a series of updated publications listing the latest information on custom - services costs in the province.

The 1988 custom rates survey summary is a 24-page publication listing the spectrum of custom services provided to the agriculture industry in Alberta as well as the going rate for each service.

Garth Nikorick, an economist with the department's farm business management branch in Olds, says the summary is a good reference for planning and budgeting for the upcoming season.

Also available is the 1988 Directory of Custom Operators. This publication lists the company names and individuals who provide custom operation services.

As well, the Farm Machinery Costs As A Guide - costs of farm machinery

Propane deadline moved to June 1

The Plumbing and Gas Safety Services Branch of Alberta Labor has extended its deadline for the certification of propane-powered vehicles to June 1.

The extension is being provided to allow adequate time for owners of propane-powered vehicles to have their vehicles inspected by a certified conversion centre.

After the June 1 deadline, all propane-powered vehicles will be required to display a sticker certifying the vehicle has been inspected and meets provincial safety standards. Propane filling stations will then only refuel vehicles displaying the sticker. Stickers are normally issued by the centre that converted the vehicle from gasoline-fuelled to propane-fuelled.

Vehicle owners who do not have the sticker are required to have their vehicles inspected and certified by a propane conversion centre by the deadline.

Follow these tips for hassle-free vacation

Describe your last "Rubber Tire" (auto-touring or RV) vacation. If it was more of the "getting lost-with-cranky-kids-and-melting-ice-cream-cones-in-the-back-seat variety" than the "smooth-sailing-and-hassle-free variety," then this is the year to make a vacation change.

The Alberta Motor Association consumer information department recommends some "pre-trip driving tips" for "Rubber Tire travellers."

"Take care of your car. Prevent problems before they start by getting your car inspected at AMA's Vehicle Inspection Centre in either Edmonton or Calgary, and if your vehicle is due for a tune-up, do it before you hit the road.

To find out when AMA's inspection service will be visiting your area, call 453-5765 (outside Edmonton can call collect).

Change the oil and filter lubricated. Have brakes, steering, tire balance and wheel alignment checked as well as all belts, hoses and fluid levels. And check tire wear and inflation. You remember to check the spare!

Check all lights and signal systems and be sure they are working and replace windshield wiper blades if your windows are streaking. What's in your trunk and glove compartment? You should have an emergency auto kit, for surprise breakdowns, emergency tools, tire-changing equipment and vehicle documents. If you're travelling with young children, buy a child restraint seat or booster seat. Be sure to take along a travel gamesbook so you can stave off boredom, and a pillow and blanket for the kids. (And be sure to take a damp cloth in a plastic wrapper to wipe up spills.)

Get your RV ready for the road. Give your RV the TLC it needs before heading out on the road.

Check the hitches and cable connections, and all lights and signal systems. Ensure the tires are properly inflated, and check for wear.

Also check your RV's independent braking system, if applicable, and check the water, electrical and LP gas systems.

Evenly distribute heavy items to balance the weight load, and pack personal belongings securely. Lash items such as bicycles to outside carriers; and before leaving, make sure all doors and drawers are tightly closed.

If you follow these pre-trip tips recommended by the AMA's consumer information service, this summer's "Rubber Tire" vacation could be more fun and less hassle!

Help preserve our natural heritage

Alberta offers some of the finest wildlife areas found anywhere.

From the Whitecourt Wilderness area, home to the harlequin duck and bighorn sheep, to areas like Sylvan Lake or Mount Livingstone, Alberta has outstanding natural areas. And now, all Albertans can lend a hand in preserving our natural heritage through the provincial government's Volunteer Stewardship Plan. The Volunteer Stewardship Plan is part of the province's natural areas program. The natural areas program officially began in 1971 and was designed to protect sensitive or scenic public lands. The idea is to ensure the preservation of these natural treasures in a natural state.

So far, 113 natural areas have been set aside. These encompass a diverse range of wildlife habitat in virtually all parts of the province. As well, another 145 sites have been targeted for possible inclusion under the Natural Areas Program. In all, more than 100,000 hectares have been slated for some kind of protection.

As must always be the case if a program is to take off, the Volunteer Stewardship Program needs public involvement to ensure natural areas are preserved and maintained. The volunteer steward assists the government by patrolling, inspecting and reporting on the condition of a local natural area.

Anyone can become a volunteer steward. Whether you participate as part of a group or on your own, the volunteer steward is expected to get involved in protecting the natural area. As a minimum requirement, the steward must visit the site at least once a year. Other activities can include maintaining signs along the boundary of the natural area or providing information to other people wanting to learn about the site.

If you are more interested in participating in the program as a member of a group, that's possible as well. You might consider joining a recreation committee or a conservation group that is interested in acquiring a long-term lease or license on a natural area. And there can be advantages to joining a group. For instance, it gives you a chance to become directly involved with people who share your interest and it lets you get involved in maintaining an important part of Alberta's natural heritage.

If you cannot act as a volunteer steward or are unable to join a group, you can still get involved. You might consider making a donation to a specific natural area project. This money could support the development of interpretive or hiking trails. It might allow installing fences or privies or picnic tables. Or, it might pay for a newsletter to promote the area.

If you or your group are interested in becoming involved in the volunteer stewardship plan, or want to become involved in a project of your own, contact your regional Alberta Fish and Wildlife office.

County paid too much

Charges of County of Parkland hanging in its purchase of a $200,000 computer system aren't born out by close look at costs and needs, says the people who chose the system.

Parkland's purchase of a Burroughs AS central processor is the right machine for the right job and can handle hundreds of programs to perform the county's tax records, payroll, accounts, census, inventory and dozens of other functions.

A report by Parkland Rural Residents' Association member Trevor Morrison doesn't look at all the facts, say three members of the committee that recommended the purchase of county council in 1986.

Morrison, a computer consultant whose credits include consulting for ACT and Edmonton Transit, charges Parkland paid too much for its Burroughs which it bought to upgrade its computer system.

He says the county could have purchased a Convergent Technologies Mighty Frame for a base price of about $27,000.

But Morrison may be confused about the AS's purchase, says the county.

"How many CTS are installed in Alberta. I ask" answered committee member and system analyst Paul Kamenky.

"How can you answer that?" It was a question that we made based on what we wanted...and this is the most cost effective solution."

The decision was made based on existing programs, the need to upgrade, the time it would take to upgrade and the amount of training that would be required, he added.

Minister issues fire bans

Minister of Forestry, Lands and Wildlife, LeRoy Fjordbotten, has issued an immediate ban on the setting of fires in the following forest fire control zones in the province. These zones include 7,9,10,11,12,13,14 and 17.

Fjordbotten said, "These fire control zones cover approximately the middle part of the province from Grande Prairie, Drayton Valley to Lac La Biche and Cold Lake areas. The fire hazard in these areas has reached very high danger levels and Forest Service meteorologists predict no break in the very dry conditions for the immediate time being."

The ban does not apply to fires located in receptacles in designated camping and recreation areas, cooking and heating appliances, burning field or gas fuels, or fires on private property if the fire is attended by the rightful occupant.

Forest users are asked to use extreme care with anything that might cause a fire such as power saws, matches and camp stoves. Dry grasses and brush pose a serious threat. The fire danger is very high in these forest fire control zones.

Transfer station duties

Ray Maplethorpe of Olds Countryside Landscaping levels the gravel at the Easyford transfer station. Maplethorpe spends his summers as a caretaker for the area's transfer stations. This was his first chance to clean up the Easyford station since the snow melted.

Olsen moving on

Tomahawk school will be losing their principal at the end of June.

Thain Olsen, who is currently in his fourth year at the school, will be moving to Lethbridge where he plans to do work on his masters at the University of Lethbridge.

"It's really tough to leave but it's something I've always wanted to do," Olsen said.

Olsen, who also teaches 85 per cent of the time, isn't guaranteed of his job after taking his one year leave of absence. However, County of Parkland has offered him another job in the system.

He is undecided at this time if he will return to the area. The move to southern Alberta will be like going home as Olsen is originally from Cardston.

TALK ABOUT TOUGH.

GM's all new full size truck gets tough with the competition.
While you're sitting pretty.

Talk about features:
GM has had news
for Ford.

- GM type Ford in horsepower. With a modern, cast-injected Vortec V6 that gives you 15 more standard horsepower in the half-ton than Ford's in-line 6 gives you even with just cast iron.
- GM has an innovative 5 speed manual transmission with overdrive. Ford's half-ton doesn't.
- GM has a full double A, arm independent rear suspension. Ford doesn't.
- GM has more standard glass area than Ford—8065 square centimetres (933 square inches) more.
- GM's bag new cab gives you more leg room.
- GM has more hard-aid galvanized steel than Ford.
- GM gives you shift-on-the-fly Intra-Trac as standard equipment on all 4x4s. Ford's system requires you to stop, get out and engage 4x4.

- GM protects the paint with a new clear-coat finish you can't get from Ford.
- GM's new frame is bigger and heavier than Ford's.
- GM has a new all-welded cargo box with no exposed bolt heads to trap water and cause rust. Ford doesn't.
- GM has special indentations in the cargo box that let you build a platform across the top of the wheelhouse for two-tier loading. Ford doesn't.
- Comparison based upon available competitive data of 1988 GMC and Chevy full size pickup trucks and 1988 Ford F-150 series pickup.

Now, there's even more to talk about:
automatic transmission
at no extra charge.
Or a $500 MSRP credit
if you choose a manual transmission.

It's a special offer from General Motors, one that's sure to make owning a GM full size pickup even MORE appealing.

Note that districts only have employees working in which the immediate family of that person affected "one of our public safety" and/or "public health."

Grain exports increase

Prince Rupert grain terminals expects to continue its high wheat exports this year according to a recent company release. Grain exports in 1987 increased 166 per cent to 4.8 million tonnes from 1.89 million tonnes in 1986. Similar throughput levels are expected in 1988. The terminal set a new annual tonnage record last year of 13.4 million tonnes up 24 per cent over 1986. Substantial increases in grain and lumber exports led the way in the volume of commodities handled. The $275 million terminal is operated by Prince Rupert Grain Ltd., a consortium of Alberta Wheat Pool, Cargill Ltd., United Grain Growers

Ltd. and Manitoba Pool Elevators. The Alberta government, through the Heritage Savings Trust Fund, contributed $220 million toward grain terminal construction.
